- Speech is a great blessing, but it can also be a great curse, for, while it helps us to make our intentions and desires known to our fellows, it can also, if we use it ceaselessly, make our attitude completely misunderstood. A slip of the tongue, the use of an unusual word, or of an ambiguous word and so on, may create an enemy where we had hoped to win a friend. Again different classes of people are different vocabularies, and the ordinary speech of an educated man may strike an uneducated listener as showing pride ; unwittingly we may use a word, which bears a different meaning to our listeners from. Thus speech is not a gift to use lightly without thought, but one, which demands careful handling.
